

BDI is Awarded the Reputable “10 Best Design Award 2008”

The AVION NOIR Receives High Recognition from Robb Report Home Entertainment Magazine

January 21, 2008 – Dallas, Texas - Contemporary home furnishings innovator BDI was recently honored by the highly regarded Robb Report Home Entertainment magazine. The Avion Noir, a very popular A/V unit, was one of the “10 Best Design 2008” winners, which is decided by the editors and staff of the magazine.

The ultra contemporary Avior Noir comes with smoked glass doors to house a complete home theater system, allowing a remote control to get through while keeping components protected and out of sight. Adjustable shelves, hidden casters and sliding back panel allow for easy access to connections, while flow-through ventilation keeps everything cool. The Avion Noir also comes with an optional, adjustable flat panel bracket to mount most flat-panel TVs up to 55” in size.

“We are so grateful to receive this honor from such a respectable magazine, says Bill Becker, CEO and Design Director for BDI.” “The team at BDI has a passion for designing high performance furniture for the contemporary home, so it is always a pleasure to receive high recognition. “

Like all BDI furniture, the home theater line is a unique and contemporary complement to almost any decor. Each multifunctional unit is manufactured with quality materials, while engineered to be fine furniture with function. BDI’s extensive collection includes models designed for flat panel, rear projection and tube TVs.
